

Many Skirmishes at Ellenville Assault Trial

Frank Brooks, Appearing For Defendants, Calls For Jury List and Leams That List Had Been "Snipped Up" and Put In Cigar Box—Motion To Transfer Case Denied—Court Room Crowded and Photographers Busy.

Although no testimony was taken at Ellenville Thursday in the Arland J. Sanderson assault action, there was considerable legal foundation laid for the trial which will be taken up on March 11, the adjourned date, when Judge Van R. Mofft and a jury will hear the case.

The case was called before Judge Mofft in Ellenville's Hall shortly after 10 o'clock. LeRoy Lounsberry appeared for the complainant and Frank W. Brooks appeared for the defendants, Chief of Police Roy M. Curry, Melissa Curry and Ruth A. Sanderson. All parties were present in court. The court room, which is small, was crowded with the fifty or more witnesses, who had been subpoenaed and Officer John Brown stood guard at the door and admitted those who were able to present the necessary documents to satisfy him that they should be admitted. Later, after all of the witnesses had been admitted, the officer left his post at the door and then several curious people were allowed to jam themselves into the room and take the standing room which remained.

Mr. Brooks first asked for a copy of the minutes of the case to date and Judge Mofft handed him a copy.

Photographer Busy.
William P. Glass appeared in the role of court stenographer and there were several reporters present from the Ellenville papers, including a photographer who after the case had been adjourned persuaded the complainant to pose and endeavored to have Mr. Brooks, defendants' counsel, pose before the camera for a flash-light. Mr. Brooks modestly declined. A group picture of Judge Mofft, the complainant and counsel was also contemplated.

After examining the minutes of the case to date Mr. Brooks stated that he would first take up the case of Chief Roy M. Curry, the facts of which are the same as in the other two cases.

Jury List in Cigar Box.
The first skirmish came when Mr. Brooks asked for the jury list, which according to the law must be certified to the justice by the town clerk kept on file. Judge Mofft stated that he had a jury list in a cigar box which contained the names of the jurors of the village and town as certified to him but that he had no copy on file. He explained that the list certified to him was "snipped up" and put in the box. He produced the box, containing the names of the jurors but said he could not produce a list as he had none.

Apply For Adjournment.
Next came an application for an adjournment on behalf of defendants for not less than five days or more than 10 days as specified by law, in order to apply for a certificate of removal from the court in the town of Ellenville. This application was made on the ground that it was evident that there could not be an impartial trial before Judge Mofft.

Mr. Lounsberry opposed this motion on the grounds that it was too late, that the application should have been made at the time of arrest. At that time, Mr. Lounsberry said, the defendants should have been informed of their rights and any desired privileges should then have been expressed. However at that time Chief Curry had consented to a trial before Judge Mofft without a jury, although he had no counsel, and by such consent he had waived any right for a certificate of removal by his election to be tried before Justice Mofft without a jury.

The court then stated that he had informed the defendants fully of their rights, that at that time after being informed of his rights the defendant had asked for an adjournment and had set the date himself as to the day of trial.

Judge Mofft ruled that he could not at this time adjourn for the purpose of the defendants getting a certificate of removal.

Summons Certified Copy.
Again Mr. Brooks demanded a certified copy of the jury list as required by law and was again informed by Judge Mofft that the list had been certified to him but that it had been cut up and used for jury slips. The slips in the cigar box were then shown from the certified copy. Judge Mofft explained that he could not supply the certified copy.

Immediately Mr. Brooks called for a subpoena and the court going to his desk produced the slip. Mr. Brooks asked the Judge to prepare it. He did so until he came to the space allotted for the name of the person to be subpoenaed and then

Police Dive in River After Boy

Two Policemen Who Jumped in East River to Save George Goldstein Threatened With Pneumonia—The Boy Died.

New York, March 4 (P).—Two policemen are in the hospital threatened with pneumonia and four other persons required medical treatment for injuries as the result of an attempt to rescue George Goldstein, 17, the Bronx, who jumped into the East river early today after he escaped while entering Bellevue Hospital for observation.

Goldstein leaped from a deserted pier near the hospital after he wrenched himself from the grasp of patrolman William McAdam and a hospital attendant, and fled from the hospital yard.

McAdam plunged into the water after him but the boy fought off the rescue efforts of the officer, the two were pulled toward the pier by patrolman William Duffey who jumped from the pier in answer to cries for help from McAdam.

The three were lifted from the water by rescuers on the pier. The boy was dead. The two policemen were rushed to the hospital suffering from exposure and submersion. Other rescuers were cut and bruised in rescue operations in the darkness of the pier.

Miller Found Guilty; Disagree On Daugherty

Former Allen Property Custodian Thomas Miller Is Found Guilty of Conspiracy—Disagree On Verdict For Former Attorney General Daugherty.

Federal Court, New York, Mar 4 (P).—The jury in the Daugherty-Miller trial today found former Allen Property Custodian Thomas Miller guilty of conspiracy but disagreed on a verdict for former Attorney-General Harry M. Daugherty.

Daugherty and Miller were charged with conspiracy to defraud the United States of their honest and unbiased services in allowing claims for $7,000,000 proceeds of the sale of impounded American Metal Company shares.

The jury was out seventy hours. United States Attorney Emory R. Buckner, after the verdict, asked Judge Knox to nolle prosequere the indictment against Daugherty. The court complied.

Maximum sentence in Miller's case is two years' imprisonment and $10,000 fine. Bail for Miller was continued pending appeal. It was set at $5,000. Date of sentence will be arranged by counsel and Judge Knox.

In reply to Judge Knox, the jurors answered that they were unable to agree for one defendant. The jury was polled and each juror affirmed this.

"Gentlemen," he said, "what is your verdict?" "We find," the foreman said, "that the defendant Thomas W. Miller is guilty as charged in the indictment."

Miller Still Confident.
There was a rustle of excitement in the court room as reporters tried to get out the booted doors. Miller sat quietly. The expression on his face did not change.

Mrs. Miller, who sat beside him, did not flinch. "I'll beat them yet," she said.

After the indictment against him had been nolle prosequere, Daugherty smiling thanked the court and the jurors. He then left the court on the arm of his brother, Mal S. Daugherty, Washington Court-house, Ohio, banker.

"I am an innocent man," Daugherty said, his voice breaking, even as he smiled. Judge Knox smiled at the former attorney-general in acknowledgment of Daugherty's thanks.

Miller, a lieutenant colonel during the war, is the son of a former governor of Delaware. He was active in the foundation of the American Legion. He was once secretary of the state of Delaware, and later a congressman from the same state. He was appointed Allen property custodian by President Harding in April, 1921, shortly after Daugherty became attorney-general.

Youths Held on Burglary Charge

Orpheum Theatre Broken Into and Ticket Office Lobbied of $73 Earlier in the Week—Irving Ballinsohn and John Wisniewski Arrested.

Irving Ballinsohn of No. 24 Chambers street and John Wisniewski of No. 173 Murray street, were arrested at 2 o'clock this morning by Policeman Camp and Special Officer Charles Messinger who charged the youths with burglary in the third degree in breaking into the Orpheum Theatre earlier in the week and stealing $73 in cash from the ticket office. Both youths were arraigned before Judge Shufeldt in police court later in the morning and the hearing adjourned to March 11.

According to the police both youths confessed to the crime. The police allege the youths said that they had been in the vicinity of the Orpheum Theatre and seeing no one about on the street had forced a door and entered the lobby.

The door of the ticket office was found locked and they used an iron bar to force an entrance into it. In the ticket office they found a bag containing $73 in money which they divided equally between them, each receiving $26.50. They then went to their homes.

Wednesday they went to New York city where they spent all of the money, retaining just enough to pay their carfare home on the train.

Snyder of Detroit, Mich., to William Singer, who operates the drive-in gas station on the adjoining property, handling the Newcombe Oil Corporation products. The price paid is understood to have been $2,500.

The first floor of the flatiron building has been used for a number of years as part of the restaurant conducted by William Hiltbrand and later taken over by Kenneth J. Devo, who vacated some time ago and opened a restaurant at No. 11 East Strand, almost directly opposite from his old location. The upper floor of the building was used as living apartments.

William Singer some time ago took title to the Staples buildings, adjoining the flatiron building and opened a drive-in gas station. The flatiron building will be demolished and the site used as an approach to the drive-in gas station.

Two More Babies Fight for Lives

Chicago, March 4 (P).—Two girl babies fought for their lives at Columbus Memorial Hospital today while civil authorities pressed an investigation to fix primary responsibility for the deaths of five other infants who were accidentally given a milk antiseptic solution instead of drinking water.

The sixth baby's condition was critical and the seventh was given an even chance of recovering. Three other victims of the mistakes among ward nurses apparently would suffer no ill effects.

Meanwhile the bodies of four of the dead infants were ordered exhumed and Coroner Oscar Wolf, directing the work of a jury of business men declared that "our investigation has just begun."

Mystery in the case was cleared up by admissions of three student nurses that they fed the infants boric acid solution which they believed to be water.

Probert, according to witnesses, was trying to save Arthur Reese, 40, who had been overcome by fumes while cleaning out the car. A nail in one of Probert's shoes apparently caused a spark to fly from the steel tank, and ignited the vapor. Reese was saved.

The victim of the blast was burned almost beyond recognition. He has been identified with the oil industry for several years, and is survived by his widow and one son. He was 45 years old.

Stage Set For Record Crowds At Auto Show

Additional Salesmen Ready to Point Out Features of Models to Large Crowds at Closing Days of Kingston's Best Automobile Show—Many Sales of Cars, Accessories, Radios, Etc., Reported.

Thursday afternoon and evening marked another busy day at the New York state armory and the large drill shed was again filled with those anxious to view the latest in automobiles and the accessories that make things convenient for the auto owners. The radio exhibits with a booth containing radio supplies were visited by many who admired the booth and display room with its artistic setting. The room containing the washing machines and the section in which the Frigidaires were displayed were also centers of great attraction.

The programs supplied by the automobile dealers to entertain the people who visited the show were enthusiastically received by all who heard the orchestra directed by Paul Zucca and the entertainment which took place at 8:30 and 9:30 o'clock.

The vaudeville program consisted of vocal and musical selections by Rubine and Rosa; a hand balancing act by Smith and Lee and the delightful vocal renditions by the soloist who made himself favorably acquainted with the Kingston public at the Knights of Columbus ball, Horace Ruwe.

Large Frigidaire Sold.
The large Frigidaire exhibited by the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation was sold to Brigham Brothers store at East Kingston. The refrigerator is a handsome one and will hold a large quantity of foodstuffs. It is six feet in height, seven feet long and in width is thirty inches. The cooling coil contained in the Frigidaire will serve the same purpose of a two-hundred pound cake of ice. The cabinet is also equipped with lock hardware which does not necessitate the turning of the handles on the door in order to tightly close the refrigerator but the door securely closes when slightly forced. The Frigidaire will be delivered to the purchaser Monday.

Many sales through the displays made at the automobile show have been reported by the automobile exhibitors who have on display fifty-four of the latest models, valued at $80,000. And the conductors of supply booths, radio displays, washing machines and refrigerators report the same accomplishments.

In every way the automobile show of 1927 has eclipsed all past functions of the kind and the merchants have benefited generously from the efforts put forth to make the show a success.

Record Crowd Expected.

The show will be open tonight and Saturday night when it will close with elaborate ceremonies. Large crowds visited the armory during the three days of the auto show but a record attendance is expected tonight and Saturday.

The exhibitors have arranged matters for the convenience of all who attend the show and extra salesmen will be on hand to explain all the features of the various cars on exhibition as well as answer all questions which may be asked about the models.

The radio displays will also be handled in the same efficient way as during the opening days of the show and the visitors may hear selections on the various types.

Other Stands Busy.
The demonstrators of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation will explain the various features of their products and the men conducting the washing machine display will cheerfully outline the modern methods of cleansing soiled articles of cloth.

The accessory stands conducted by the Todd Tire Shop and Frank L. Brown, Kingston's pioneer auto electrician, will retain their attractions for the remaining days of the automobile show and will be pleased to have all visit their booths.

The refreshment booth will also be operated in the admirable fashion in which it was conducted during the initial days of the sale and all may obtain delicious hot down manufactured by the Fort Packing Company. It will be of value to all to attend the show whether or not the purchase of a car is contemplated for much knowledge may be obtained from the various explanations cheerfully given by demonstrators.

Several Find Treasure.
The $5,000 Treasure Hunt at the automobile show at the armory this week goes merrily on. Each evening someone is claiming some of this hidden treasure. In addition to the automobile dealer who are participating in this event several merchants of various lines are also offering gifts.

Among them are E. Cohen's Sons, Wall street, who have donated a $5 shirt or hat; Green's Ideal Market, North Front street, a case of oysters; Charles Warren, Fair street, a $3 fishing tackle; M. Kaplan, North Front street, a $10 complete mirror; and the Chic Shoppe, Broadway, a $6 gift.

The key to this hidden treasure is not far off.

which is given by the merchants outside the automobile line will be found on the wheels, under the fenders or some similar place about the cars exhibited.

Thursday night several people claimed a portion of the hidden treasure, among them were Mrs. Krom of Kingston, who received a $50 certificate exchangeable in payment for an Oakland car sold through Forsyth & Davis; E. Fowler also was given a $50 certificate by the same firm. William Davis Hawk, radio wholesaler and distributor donated to Mrs. David Ebel, Jr., of this city, five Marathon radio tubes; Harold Garrity of Lucas avenue was given a $50 certificate by Peter A. Black, Hudson-Essex dealer in exchange toward the purchase of a Hudson car. Frank Brown, automobile electrician and battery man, also gave to Albert Harvey of Cedar street a $10 Spartan horn.

Considerable interest is being shown in the treasure hunt and many of the patrons at the show are receiving part of the hidden treasure.

Random Notes of the Show.
It isn't necessary to go to Sheephead Bay for speed. Over four hundred speeds were demonstrated last night at Kingston's Auto Show. There were no accidents from fast driving.

Money saved is money earned, but it takes money to save money at the Auto Show. Join the Treasure Hunt and find the number of your card on some handsome car. Buy the machine and the dealer will allow you from $35 to $50 on the purchase price.

The beautiful steel-bodied machines have magnetic influence. Hundreds flocked to the Armory to view the graceful models. Men were in the majority last night. Suddenly two girl-entertainers appeared on the stage and offered their selections. They had Elinor Glyn's "It," and the automobile salesman found themselves temporarily deserted.

HENRY C. SCHILLING SKIPPED WITH STROKE WHILE HERE

Henry C. Schilling, president of the Schilling Furniture Company, and in charge of the sales department of the concern, who came to Kingston on Thursday from his home in New York, was found unconscious this morning on the floor of his room in The Governor Clinton. Dr. E. F. Sibley was summoned and had Mr. Schilling taken to the Benedictine Hospital where his condition is reported as critical. He is under the care of Dr. Sibley and also Dr. Voss. Thursday Mr. Schilling was apparently in his usual good health. He had evidently been seized with a stroke as he arose from his bed this morning.

FIRE ON STEAMER RAMSDALL WAS QUICKLY EXTINGUISHED

Thursday morning about 5 o'clock fire broke out on the steamer Homer Ramsdell of the Central Hudson Line, while she was berthed at Newburgh. Burning soon in a stack from the kitchen range was the cause. There were about half a dozen men on board at the time. At the first sign of fire, extinguishers on the vessel were put into operation. When the Newburgh fire department arrived, they too, applied chemicals and the fire was quickly brought under control with out damage to the vessel.

Phoenicia Church History Recalled

In Paper Written by Mrs. A. Perry Loomis and Read at Dedication Service of Memorial Windows.

At the dedication of the Phoenicia memorial windows, Sunday evening, February 27, an interesting paper written by Mrs. A. Perry Loomis and read at the dedication service was as follows:

We stand upon Thy threshold and as we gaze down the aisles, we hear the messages of the past as they come ringing down to us through the grooves of time, as they re-echo the story of Thy birth.

Phoenicia, was one of the many hamlets that dotted the inland valleys throughout the beautiful Catskill mountains. The church and little school house that used to guard hand and hand were found here and there as the tide turned westward. But Phoenicia had no church of any denomination.

Methodism, that reaches out, has not been unkindful of this section and a church was at Sandaken and Chichester was counted on the Sandaken charge. The Phoenicia people attended church at Chichester. Sunday school was held here in the school house.

Among the Phoenicia people, was Dr. Winters and family. The doctor was quite a young man when he settled here. Because of his profession, he became well known far and near. He had a big heart and made many staunch friends for himself. There came a longing to have a church in Phoenicia on the home ground. The seed thought was planted. Phoenicia would grow and its business activities would expand. A church to send out the influence of the gospel to permeate the homes was needed. A religious lamp must be lighted for the children of "today" who are the parents of "tomorrow."

Mrs. Winters with other ladies caught the vision. A meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Winters and on December 6, 1878, a Ladies Aid was organized. Its members were Mrs. George Graham, Miss Alice Van Demark, Mrs. Philletus Johnson, Mrs. Sarah Bouse, Mrs. J. J. DuBols and Mrs. Winters, who was elected president and served nine years. This band of six sounded the key note for a church building. Opposition came from different quarters and from different view points.

Dr. Winters was not a religious man but he had faith in his wife's religion. He backed the cause and without his backing this church would not have been built. He took the responsibility of $6,000, which with the furniture, seats, etc., brought it to $7,000. Then a lot was purchased of the elder Mr. Simpson, where the Delemeter house now stands. Mr. Newton, who owned land on what is now Church street, donated the lot and gave $50 dollars toward the church fund. The Aid gladly accepted the offer and Mr. Simpson willingly bought back his lot. Miss Maria Longyear was financial secretary of the Aid for several years. She is still living but resides in the west.

The Aid increased in number and the church interest grew. The first social was a dime social held at Mrs. Winters' home. It netted $2 which Mrs. Bouse tells us was considered quite satisfactory. Four years after the Aid was organized all was ready for the church itself. The Rev. Hawhurst was the district superintendent and he opposed the building of the church. He advocated the continuance of attending church at Chichester. But his opposition did not deter the workers and 1883 saw the church built on the lot where it now stands. Aaron Ellings built it.

It was dedicated in November of 1883. The Rev. Phillips was pastor when it was dedicated. The papers and records were placed in the corner stone. If there were any copies made it is to be regretted that none are in evidence. It would enrich us with all the plainings instead of just a few. At the dedication the Aid had $500 for the church building. It seemed a peculiar circumstance that nine years after the Rev. Hawhurst, who opposed building the church, was sent as pastor of it. He did not refer to the past; but it seems it would have been so more than right if he had admitted that, even a Methodist minister, to say nothing of a district superintendent, may err in vision.

Seven years after the church was built the parsonage was built. Mr. Ellings built this also. Mrs. Ellings became president of the Aid 18 years after its organization. She had been vice-president. Mrs. D. Winters of Mt. Pleasant was president after Mrs. Winters and she, too, served nine years.

The first service held in the church was before the church was completed. It was a funeral. A family living on the back road across from Phoenicia lost a little son. Dr. Winters's sympathy for them, told them the funeral could be held in the church. The minister, who was to preach, told the doctor he didn't see how it could be held in the church. No seats and shavings over the floor.

"Well, if you can preach a sermon behind the pulpit, you ought to be able to preach a sermon if there isn't any," said the doctor. "I can" the preacher said. So the doctor had the floor swept and the seats were set around unfastened. And nothing marred the funeral.

The church that was destined to teach the Christian hope, sent its first message to the living, over the dead. "He that believeth on Me, though he were dead, yet shall he live."

One evening, in an after meeting, Mrs. Winters to her great joy, heard the doctor's voice speaking. He was converted and united with the church he had sponsored until it became a living church. The Rev. Phillips was pastor and received him into membership. Now the two, husband and wife, could worship together. Later, Dr. Winters became superintendent of the Sunday school. Mrs. Winters was an earnest temperance worker and was president of the Phoenicia Women's Christian Temperance Union. Dr. Winters was supervisor and also school commissioner. In March, at the beginning of the great blizzard, Dr. Winters passed to the Great Beyond. On account of the blizzard condition of the roads, his body was kept till the following Saturday. His funeral was held in the church. His body laid before this altar.

The Rev. E. L. Allen, the pastor, officiated. Here was victory in death. When I say that notwithstanding the bad condition of the roads, that the church and lecture room was filled—500 people making their way to the funeral, it speaks what a personality Dr. Winters was in the community. He and his wife now both sleep with the dead. They knew the Bible's Christ. They will know His voice when He calls on the Resurrection Morn. When our pastor, the Rev. Skidmore, took up the work of placing memorial windows in the church, it seemed very fitting to place one to Dr. and Mrs. Winters.

It would have been in the spirit of things if the Ladies' Aid, which is the tree from that root of Six, had placed a window spanning the dates 1878-1927 and dedicated it to Dr. and Mrs. Winters and interlinked the name of Mrs. Sarah Bouse, a charter member of the Aid and the only one of that band of six that is living. Mrs. Bouse has followed the Aid all through and met all the members coming into it.

But circumstances arose, and prevented the Aid window from becoming a live window in testimony.

Mrs. Bouse has been associated with the Sunday school for more than 43 years and tonight the Sunday school window with its open Bible is dedicated in honor to her. It would have taken the very essence out of the church history, which needs to be opened in dedication, without the memory perpetuated of those who planted that others might reap. And so, tonight, I with others am very happy as the memorial window dedicated to Dr. and Mrs. Winters and their departed daughter looms up and passes on their memory to coming generations. Thanks are extended to their grandchildren for placing it. The association of this lovely window is nicely placed at the side of the large center window in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Sarah Ellings.

As we look at the Master in this window, let us bear anew His words, "I am the Shepherd and know My sheep." May we, as the sheep of His care, carry that link of fellowship which brings all to work together, in the spirit of unity and thus become a harmonized fold. What our hands find to do, let us do it with an eye single to His glory. The church will then be a light set on the hill.

No longer any need of speculating and wondering about the Great Candy Mystery—what does the chocolate covering conceal?

This deliciously good candy is made from pure New Orleans molasses, full cream and rich creamery butter. It is so popular that you will find it in each of Maillard's famous assortments, "Excelsior," "Sane Rival" and "La Soudaise".

RISLEY PROPERTY GREATLY IMPROVED

William Risley, formerly of Kingston, now a leading practicing attorney at law in New York, son of the late Edmund Risley of Shandaken, one-time a reporter on The Freeman, has made many notable changes and improvements to the Risley property in Shandaken since his father's death.

On the plateau near the Glenbrook summer hotel, Mr. Risley has erected a modern lodge headquarters for club members residing in New York city. On what is known as the dairy farm, located about a half mile west of the club house, Mr. Risley erected a large modern barn last fall and at that time had planned to establish an up-to-date stock farm. Authentic reports state says a Pine Hill correspondent to the Stamford News-Recorder, that Mr. Risley has recently sold the farm to New York parties, who will convert it into a golf course for which the surface and location are most favorably situated.

Around March 1, Mr. Risley will begin the construction of six new bungalows with George Ennist, the well known contractor of Bradstreet Hollow, in charge. A saw mill will also be erected on the site of the old blue stone dock—close to the Shandaken Ulster & Delaware Railroad station—where logs cut and hauled from the adjoining mountains will be converted into building material, with ready facilities for shipment to any part of the country.

During the winter men were employed on the mountain sides chopping down trees that were placed in piles and then hauled to a portable sawing machine near the farm house where it was "buzzed" into stove wood that retailed locally at $4.50 per cord delivered. The stone dock and mountain lands are also a part of the Risley estate, which consists of many hundreds of acres of land located in the Shandaken and adjoining valleys, on which are many tenant houses.

Hunters Lasso Mountain Lions in Glacier Park

Glacier Park, Mont.—Jim Whitl and Bob Baker, government hunters here, have roped so many mountain lions that there aren't even enough tracks left to amuse a bloodhound. The two hunters make a practice of catching the lions alive with their lariats and selling them to circuses. Until last year they maintained a pack of bloodhounds to trail the beasts, but lions and trails finally got so scarce that they sold the dogs to the Roosevelt expedition for hunting lions in Asia.

Reasonable Supposition

A seal was recently laid off the shore of New York, presumably for the reason that seals are only infrequent visitors. One only occasionally appears. Therefore, that New York would be proud to take a part in an annual seal hunt is one more indication of the city's conservatism.

Plaits Are Shown on Spring Outfit

Two and Three-Toned Materials Promise to Lead Fashion.

The lovely and colorful frocks shown in the shops for southern wear are a forecast of the mode for spring and summer. Plaits are staging a come-back, especially on sports clothes of the popular jumper variety. Skirts entirely plaited, others with a number of plaits in the front are now and offer a pleasant change from the straight-lined models of the past season. Tucks to give desired fullness on the shoulders and diagonal tucks placed through the body of the frock are also interesting accessories to the new silhouette.

Two-toned and three-toned materials are novel and artistic and, judging from all prophecies, will lead the fashion. Charming afternoon gowns in two or three tones of the new medium blue shade, green, rose or gray developed in crepe de chine, georgette crepe, flat crepe, tulle or crepe that look like the stuff that dreams are made of are simply irresistible. Another adaptation of this idea is the combining of black, gray and white or several hues of the pastel shades and white.

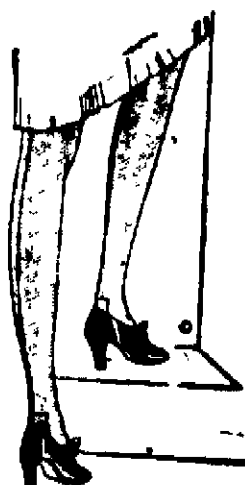

The high neck continues in the lime-light, although the bateau, V and square neck lines are smart innovations in the spring style notes.

Simple frocks are either one-piece or two-piece, as you will, and many of the one-piece affairs have the illusion of being two-piece. When a frock is of the two-piece variety the skirt and bodice are very often of two harmonizing or contrasting colors. A decidedly new idea is the three-piece ensemble, consisting of sweater and skirt with cardigan jacket added for chic and color or a plain silk frock in either one or two pieces, and the new cardigan jacket in silk or jersey with a pretty flower in self material attached to the left shoulder.

It has been conceded that apparel which is smart and chic is much more fashionable than simple good-looking or beautiful clothes. Women who have mastered the art of correct dressing invariably choose that which is extremely smart in preference to something merely becoming. For this reason black is always included in the wardrobe of the well-dressed woman. To obtain the best effect from this summer but indispensable color, the gown should be short of skirt, low of neck and worn either with the very sheer gummetal, or flesh-colored hose.

Smarter Than Pink

For years now has had the tendency to question the smartness of pink lingerie. Now, however, the designers are thrusting before the eyes of patrons intimate garments of sky blue, lavender, turquoise blue, coral pinkish, orange and apricot and declaring they are smarter than pink. These garments are literally trimmed with very fine lace either in an ochre tint or dyed to match the crepe de chine or georgette on which they are posed.

Leather Styles for Spring

Seven colors have been selected for the leather to be used for spring shoes. They include patent parchment, parchment with a rose tint; cream, a light gold shade; rose-black, a beige with a rose cast; shell gray, a light, cream pearl gray; strawline tan and Humpstead brown (for both men's and women's shoes) and Spanish velvet, a dark wine shade with a moose hair.

Costume Dresses

For the more formal occasions, dresses are being shown that plainly reflect the conservative designs and colorings. These picturesque costumes are not a great departure from the tradition with any saving to low evening clothes, but make streaming out for infrequent use.

Slight and Wrong

There is no credit in having low to equal, but positive diagnosis is being given on that point. The shoe can be no credit in doing right, while it is necessary to do wrong. —G. F. Zinn.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

BUTTERFLY AND SUN

Daddy had seen a little boy that day who had told him how he collected cocoons and chrysalids and watched them grow into beautiful butterflies.

"How would you like to hear about a butterfly who was delighted to see the sun?" asked Daddy.

"We would love to hear the story," quickly responded Nancy.

"But, Daddy," said Nick, "don't butterflies always love the sun?"

"I presume they do. Certainly they always seem to love it, but this butterfly was unusually pleased."

"He was seeing the sun for the first time."

"I saw a little boy today named Robert who has a collection of cocoons."

"He keeps them on little twigs in a great big box punched full of holes."

"Then he waits to see them come out. After they have come out he never kills them or tries to keep them, for he thinks that is dreadfully cruel."

"He knows well that they love to see the sun and be out in the fresh air among the flowers, and he wouldn't deprive them of that pleasure for anything."

"But one day about a week ago out from a cocoon came the most beautiful pale blue butterfly Robert had ever seen."

"He at once took it out of the box, and off it flew into the warm sun's rays and lighted upon a small tree which was covered with plum blossoms."

"And Robert said that it was so much more fun to see these lovely butterflies happy over their entrance into the world than to see them cruelly cooped up or without any life."

"Before long the insect had spied other butterflies and had evidently made them as enthusiastic as it was."

"The butterfly acted as if it thought: 'Well, this may be my first party, but it certainly won't be my last.'"

"The other butterflies acted just as if they thought the same way about it, as they had only been out in the world for a very short time."

"But you can just imagine how fun it is for the butterflies to wake up and to have all the parties they can have in the different sweet beds and flowers."

"And the flowers bob about as if they liked parties, too."

"They really, really do," agreed Nancy.

Butterflies Hovered Around the Plum Tree.

for a large number of butterflies hovered around the plum tree, and it seemed to be the leader of them all.

"The butterfly was so happy with the plum blossoms, the birds singing, and the warm sun pouring down on the nodding flowers, that it had to have some little companions to share its happiness with."

"Robert said he could not understand how any boy would rather see a butterfly die than to see it alive and enjoying life."

"The butterfly acted as if it thought: 'Well, this may be my first party, but it certainly won't be my last.'"

GAS BUGGIES—Experts On The Job.

AFTER THE TRIANGLE OF PARTIES INTERESTED IN THE SALE OF HIRAM FARINA'S CAR, HAD DECLARED A TEMPORARY TRUCE, THEY ALL CONSULTED THEIR ATTORNEYS AND RECEIVED OPINIONS AS VARIED AS THEY WERE CONVINCING.

HERE'S THE PICTURE IN A NUTSHELL. THIS BIRD, HIRAM, OFFERS TO SELL THE BUG FOR $700. I TAKE HIM UP ON IT. BUT WHEN I HANDS HIM THE DOUGH, HE STARTS TO CRAWFISH. THEN A FAT GUY ANKLES IN AND CLAIMS HE OWNS THE BUGGY, AND SAYS I CAN'T RIDE IN IT.

THE CAR IS RIGHTFULLY YOURS. CHANGING HIS MIND DOESN'T ALTER THE LAW. HE MADE YOU AN OFFER AND YOU ACCEPTED IT. YOUR ACCEPTANCE CONSTITUTES A DEAL. DID YOU EVER HEAR OF A STORE THAT REFUSED TO SELL THE GOODS IT ADVERTISED? OF COURSE NOT. ALL YOU HAVE TO DO IS GET POSSESSION OF THE CAR.

La Salle

Companion-Car to Cadillac

This new car is Cadillac's response to the demand for a car of Cadillac calibre to fill a slightly varying field of usefulness.

The congenial task of creating this companion-car to Cadillac has gone on carefully for nearly four years.

The luminous result is a rarely beautiful car of most brilliant performance—the La Salle—companion-car in every sense of the word to the Cadillac as Rene Robert Cavelier, Sieur de LaSalle himself was companion in distinguished achievement to that other great early-American, Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac.

The La Salle is manufactured completely by the Cadillac Motor Car Company within its own plant.

TASTY FOODS

A new dish is always a welcome sight and the originator is deserving of much credit.

Curry of Rabbit.—Select a young fat rabbit, which if fresh will have a sweet odor. Skin and clean it and split it down the back. Disjoint and cut into serving-sized pieces. Wipe each with a damp cloth and parboil in water to which a little vinegar has been added.

If the gamey taste is at all objectionable, season with salt and pepper, roll in flour and brown in a little oil or fat. To the fat left in the pan add one sliced onion and cook until slightly colored. Mix two teaspoonsful of curry powder with one teaspoonful of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of flour and brown this mixture in the fat. Add slowly one pint of water and a cupful of tomato strained, six chopped raisins, one cupful of sour apple chopped, a few dashes of cayenne and salt to taste. Turn this sauce over the rabbit and let it simmer until tender. When ready add a cupful of hot milk and a quarter of a cupful of chopped olives. Have ready a cupful of rice, turn the rabbit into a platter and pile the rice around the edge for a border.

Malabar Rice.—Cook together one tablespoonful of finely chopped onion and two tablespoonfuls of fat; when well cooked add one cupful of well washed rice. Stir it until a light brown. Mix a quart of strong beef stock and one pint of tomato. Season highly with salt and cayenne. Add these to the rice and let cook slowly on the back part of the stove, or in a stress cooker. Just before serving add more seasoning if needed, pour over it two tablespoonfuls of butter, add two large cardamom seeds split, and turn into a hot dish.

Bombay Soup.—Put a tablespoonful of butter into a saucepan, add one onion sliced and cook slowly without browning, then add one large sour apple sliced but not peeled, a teaspoonful of thyme, juice of half a lemon, a tablespoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of rice (cooked). Cover and simmer gently for ten minutes with one quart of good soup stock.

Togs for Children Are Smart, Simple

Fuzzy Garments With Appropriate Accessories for Paris Youngsters.

"Come and play in Parc Monceau," invite the little children in Paris who go there nearly every day with their quaint nurses. Here is one small girl in a bright yellow coat of downy wool which opens at the side, and her close small hat matches even to the fuzzy button on the peak, and there goes a small boy of seven summers in a royal blue cloth coat fitted at the waist, which accentuates the flare of the full skirt. Big nearly buttons in a double row seem to match his snowy white muffer, and his enormous cap is precisely like his coat. Two sisters wear coats and hats in dark green trimmed with gray fur, and their older brother has a big navy blue coat in material such as the British naval officers wear. Very wee tots have coats and bonnets in a light-toned old rose velvet with the roke and bigish sleeves smocked or shirred, which treatment is repeated in their cunning bonnets. Royal blue is worn as a smart rain ensemble—both hat and belted coat—while another small miss chooses a black-and-white plaid cape that fastens at one side. Everywhere the keynote of the smart children's costume is simplicity—nothing else matters half so much.

An attractive idea often seen in Paris is the small girl with her Lenci doll dressed exactly like herself, perhaps in a bright red woolen coat with mock godets at the sides worked in lattice fashion in two light harmonizing colors and matched by the band on the rolled-brim hat.

The Most Popular Shades. Reds, greens and blues seem to be the most popular shades worn by the smart little French girls who are more than five years old, while pastel tones are worn as well by the very young, says a Paris fashion correspondent in the New York Herald-Tribune. Pale shades of pink or blue or yellow, and sometimes delicate green are favorites for the party frocks in chiffon or georgette or taffeta. In a Paris shop much frequented by the haut monde, orange with black velvet is shown in a number of ensembles. Some frocks are in crepe de chine deeply banded with the velvet and the coat may be velours de laine or even broadcloth. Another shop shows a great deal of periwinkle blue for the girl's wardrobe, and one stunning little frock is mulberry satin with rows of narrow ruffles in georgette, picot-edged, that form a deep band on the skirt. This model is sleeveless, while others have cap, sleeves and a few long ones.

Gray, beige and navy blue as well as royal blue are the favored shades for boys unless they are quite small, and then they may have a pale blue linen suit embroidered in white, or a white blouse with pink collars and cuffs like the little trousers.

Lion, who specializes in children's clothes, shows blue linen in a frock with inset bands of mauve and pink. Azure blue broadcloth is used for an ensemble in which narrow embroidered points rise above the inset pockets of the suspender-like frock. White crepe de chine, plaited, is used for the short-sleeved gumps. A bolero front is shown in the coat, bound with matchother color—blue sometimes—around the bottom of the jumper. Elephants are used in one charming model. Changeable pink with blue taffeta makes a wee girl's cape-coat with the capelet corners hand-painted in a floral design. Lace around the armholes and neck, tucks near the shoulders and the hand-painted hem describe another tiny white frock in crepe de chine.

Peasant embroideries have been revived for the trimming of children's clothes and appear on coats, frocks and little boys' bloomer suits. Vivid colors distinguish this embroidery and sometimes a solid mass completely covers coat pockets, collars, cuffs, or hem-bands. A great deal of smocking is seen, particularly on the light dresses of the tiniest tots. One quaint little frock of white crepe de chine was made with a row of smocking which suggested an empire waist and the Peter Pan collar was smocked on either side of a large white georgette bow. Many of these frocks are made with tucks which serve as their only trimming, thus carrying out the principle of simplicity indorsed by the couturiers for children's dresses. Embroidered dots are another form of simple trimming very much in favor with the smartly dressed children in Paris.

The hem of coats and dresses for the young Paris ladies has become a particularly important theme—it is varied, generally very full, but sometimes fairly straight and narrow. But in many of the dresses the sparse trimming is almost concentrated at the hem, usually in the form of a wide band of embroidery, ribbon or contrasting fabric. One dainty party frock was seen with a row of large rosettes all around the hem. Another, in orange organdie, was cut in scallops at the hem, giving a suggestion of flower-like charm to the little maiden who wore it. An edge of lace adds a finishing touch to a pale blue taffeta frock worn by a small girl to a dinner.

The slightly more grown-up girl chooses dresses with a bolero hint for her party frocks. Really it is a revival of the old eon theme, since the boleros are cut extremely short and often a sash is worn directly below.

Trimming Ideas.

When a pleasing trimming idea is featured in one after another of the Paris fashion collections, that particular idea, because of the resultant publicity given it, is apt to become hackneyed and in consequence rejected by the women who would be distinctive. Various isolate but charming and original trimming ideas gleaned from the several collections of this season are proving interesting.

Embroidery done with chenille is one of the most effective of these new trimmings. Jean Patou has a lovely afternoon gown of black georgette with the bloused back of the waist enriched with lines of black chenille threaded from shoulders to waistline. Between the groups of fullness at either side front of the skirt is a panel with this same vertical threading of the chenille with rows of chenille fringing arranged diagonally at either side of it. A large bow of soft, pale pink ribbon at one side of the rather low waistline accentuates the glossy blackness of the chenille trimming.

Although much fringe is used this season, it is not always the ordinary broad fringe of other years. A favorite variety is made of narrowst cutting of the gown material, the flat blue strip when completed being barely an eighth of an inch in width and unadorned except. On a lead-gray gown of crepe de chine from Lanvin the only trimming is an overcast arrangement of this redolently made fringe of crepe de chine, the lead-gray of the gown and a silver shade alternating to make stripes. The fringe is braided in twines for a distance of four inches below the belt.

Not how much but what kind, the important problem in children's meals

Nowadays children aren't given the unsuitable heavy meals so common years ago. For child health specialists are teaching that the kind of food given is more important for healthful growth than quantity—or even variety.

They are urging the importance of the growth foods... those that contain protein in helpful amounts. Quick Mother's Oats with milk, a cup of each a day, supplies nearly one-quarter of the protein needed by a growing child in a day. All the nourishment of the natural whole grain—vitamins and indispensable minerals—are furnished by Quick Mother's Oats with milk. Let your growing children have it often.

Two kinds—the kind you have always known or Quick (cooks in 2 1/2 to 3 minutes.) Both with coupons interchangeable with Aunt Jemima coupons, redeemable for lamps, silverware, etc.

Youngsters need this purifying toilet soap

[—it removes germs,] as well as dirt

TRY as you will—you can't keep children from touching germ-laden things!

Those active little fingers simply must handle books and pencils—must fondle pets—must touch desks, chairs, toys—and countless other things on which germs may lurk.

And your own hands—your husband's hands—touching money, telephones, dust pan, mop—they can't escape germs, either. Health authorities say hands are among the chief carriers of sickness. See 27 germ diseases, above, which hands may spread.

To guard against this menace—let every member of your family wash at all times with the purifying toilet soap that removes germs, as well as dirt.

A habit in 63,000 schools

In over 63,000 schools, children have learned to wash regularly with Lifebuoy—before meals, before bed, after using the toilet—simply because its antiseptic lather helps protect against sickness.

Children love this bubbly lather that washes away dirt in a jiffy. Millions of men will use nothing but Lifebuoy for toilet and bath. Women, too, say it benefits their skin amazingly—makes it clear and satin-smooth.

And finally, Lifebuoy gives all-day freedom from perspiration odors—every Lifebuoy user testifies to that.

Greater protection—its hygienic scent tells you why

Lifebuoy is so different from other toilet soaps that even its scent is different. Not a perfume, but a clean, pleasantly hygienic

What Mrs. E. M. Hovey, 22 Broadway, says: I certainly am grateful to the teacher who gave my little girl a sample cake of Lifebuoy. Children are so apt to pick up germs that they really need an antiseptic soap to keep them safe against sickness. It makes my skin so clear and keeps my hair so nice. And now that we're used to its nice clean smell, none of us could ever be satisfied with any perfumed soap.

MRS. E. M. HOVEY, Kingston, N. Y.

From all over the country come letters like this. No wonder millions are turning to Lifebuoy.

scent which proves Lifebuoy gives greater protection. Even before you've finished your first cake, you'll learn to love this cleaner of all soap scents, which quickly evaporates after rinsing.

Without its antiseptic, Lifebuoy would still be a wonderful toilet soap—but you wouldn't get the same protection.

Like millions of others, once you form the Lifebuoy habit, you'll wonder how any other soap ever satisfied you.

Nothing extra to buy

Lifebuoy costs no more—probably less—than the soap you are now using—so the protection it gives you is actually free!

You can get Lifebuoy wherever soap is sold. You will know it by the red box and the cake—orange-red, the color of its pure palm-fruit oils.

PLAN SHIP ROAD
ACROSS MEXICO

Would Compete With Panama Canal, Because Toll Charges Will Be Less.

New York.—A "ship railway" across the entire span of the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, in the southernmost part of Mexico, with sufficient capacity for hauling the largest of the world's present day seagoing vessels, is the dream of European capitalists, according to plans revealed here.

The program calling for the construction of this novel feat of engineering, which for the last three years has occupied the attention of some of Europe's brainiest civil and mechanical engineering minds, hinges solely on the final granting of a concession under consideration by the Mexican government.

According to Rudolf Wassermann and Heinrich Fastlich, German scientific engineers, at one time associated with the late Hugo Stinnes, who now are in New York on the way to the City of Mexico, the contemplated "ship railway," when completed, will prove a keen competitor to the Panama canal because its total charges will be less.

To Cost More Than $150,000,000. "It is the contention of the scientific world," Herr Wassermann said, "that wherever a canal can be built to float a ship, a railroad can be constructed to carry one, and the present estimated cost to build the ship canal across the Isthmus will be between $150,000,000 and $175,000,000."

The plans which will be submitted to the Mexican government for its approval call for an almost straight-away and level route lying between the town of Coahuacalco, at the mouth of the river by the same name, on the Bay of Campeche, state of Vera Cruz, across the Isthmus a distance of about 117 miles, to the town of Huixtlan, state of Oaxaca, on the Pacific coast.

Herr Wassermann said the route of the proposed "ship railway" calls for but one line across the entire stretch, and this is at a point known as Chivela, in Oaxaca, where a mammoth turntable will be built to make the necessary bend in the direction of Huixtlan in order to take advantage of a broad and level canyon through the Sierra Madre.

Herr Wassermann said the right of way will be built up on 30 rails, spaced according to standard gauge, while the specifications call for a grade of not more than 85 feet to the mile at each terminal. The trackage will submerge or descend into water at these points, enabling the ship to be lodged into a floating drydock or cradle for transportation across the Isthmus.

"The wheeled cradle carriage or drydock," explained Herr Wassermann, "will be built in sections or units, thus permitting easy adjustment of the keel blocks which readily can be arranged to accommodate the largest ships.

The cradles can be drawn by from six to fifteen heavy locomotives (depending upon the ship's tonnage), each one of which will be equivalent in hauling power to six of the ordinary freight type.

Out of Water Seven Hours. "Every known feature and angle has been given most careful study, even to the pressure of one-hundredth of an inch upon the cradle and roadbed when ships of various capacities are on the way from terminal to terminal," Herr Wassermann said.

Herr Fastlich, who is a former artillery colonel of the Imperial German army, says one of the ship loaded cradles can be transported across the Isthmus at the rate of 20 miles an hour, and that no vessel will be kept out of the water more than seven hours at the most. It being figured that it will take almost an hour to make the necessary bend on the turntable at Chivela. "The bar at the mouth of the river at Coahuacalco, on the Gulf of Mexico, will have to be dredged extensively to permit the vessels to get into the runway approaching the site of the eastern terminal," continued Herr Fastlich. "As also will be the case of Huixtlan, where an artificial harbor will have to be dredged to carry the scheme to a successful conclusion. The latter feat alone will require an expenditure of from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000.

Body Buried 14 Years
Is Dug Up Petrified

Loray, Va.—The transformation of a human body into stone worked swiftly in the case of George W. Seckford, second son of George W. Seckford, a former supervisor of Springfield district. After having been buried near Riverview, eight miles north of Loray, for four years relatives decided to have the body removed to another burial ground.

Those engaged in removing the body found it had increased in weight from 165 to 600 pounds. With the exception of a beard, that had grown to more than a foot in length, every feature of Mr. Seckford had been retained. Petrification is attributed to the constant percolation of mineral and water through the earth.

BERING SEA ICE FLOES
AID POLAR BEAR HUNT

Hair Seal Is Favorite Food of These Animals and Nature Helps Them in Chase.

St. Michael, Alaska.—Heavy weather, with tremendously large ice floes in Bering sea, promises the natives of Kotzebue sound the most favorable polar-bear hunting in a generation.

A good market exists this year for the fine white polar bear skins, and these arctic nomads are so plentiful a good catch is anticipated.

The white king of the Arctic regions is a combined hunter-sailor-hobo. He has no fixed habitat, but goes where food is most plentiful, coming down with the ice pack of the North when seal, walrus and whale move.

Unlike any other animal, the polar bear keeps to the ice and will seek shore only when cut off from open water. It is the best swimmer of the animal world. Loose jointed, ungainly, silly looking, with a skin that fits badly, the white bear is nevertheless very fleet footed. Often they are not pure white, frequently being killed possessing yellow, brown, and black spots on hips and back. The flanks and legs are covered with hair sometimes twenty inches long.

The much sought food of these aquatic animals is the hair seal, and nature has helped them hunt by providing a coat that harmonizes with surrounding landscape. That the bear might not have an unfair advantage in the quest he has a coal black nose, which he cunningly hides, declare Eskimos, when stalking a victim, by placing a paw over it.

The bears often capture seal in the open sea. Detecting a bunch of seal floating on the surface, the bears dive and swim deep under water. Noiselessly they come up right under the seal, one of which is sure to be bear meat.

Polar bear pelts are of little value in the North. Only the largest and finest colored ones are commercially valued for rugs and furs. From $40 to $75 at Nome, their value increases to $125 to $250 in Seattle and New York.

The Arctic bears are so greedy that even Eskimos refuse to eat the flesh except in extreme hunger. There is no scarcity of white bears in the frigid zone, because they range an area where men seldom go.

Big Cigarette Factory

A contract has recently been let for the construction of what will be one of the largest cigarette factories in the United Kingdom, according to Assistant Trade Commissioner James Somerville, Jr., London. Located not far from the heart of the city, the building will have a floor space of some nine acres, will be 75 feet above the pavement, 600 feet long and 200 feet wide. The building is expected to cost about £500,000 and will be completed within eighteen months.

Geyser Aids Digestion and Hathorn Corrects Faulty Elimination

The N. Y. State Conservation Commission knows Saratoga and what its natural health waters will do. It has had well-known physicians and state chemists make a thorough analysis of each individual spring. On Geyser and Hathorn two of the most important, its findings are:

1. Saratoga Geyser Water is a delicious, sparkling aid in treating acidity, indigestion, rheumatism.

2. Saratoga Hathorn Water is a gentle laxative and eliminant.

It is by relieving acidity that Saratoga Geyser Water bestows its marvelous gift of renewed health and energy. This natural spring water, all a habit with life and vigor, leads to lunch and dinner. By neutralizing acid conditions Geyser helps in removing one of the most frequent causes of indigestion, stomach nervousness, heartburn, headache, nausea and rheumatism.

But go further than this in your advance toward health by counteracting the tendency to constipation caused by soft, difficult-to-digest, modern foods. To accomplish this, take Saratoga Hathorn at least half hour before lunch. Water, day after day. Wonderful health benefit.

Please today for convenient Economy One of Geyser and Hathorn.

Sold in Saratoga Springs, N. Y., and by other high-class dealers.

ACTIVE IGNORANCE

THE proprietor of a large furniture establishment recently related the conversation he had with a representative of a concern, one of whose chief merchandising products is their famous bookcases. "Bookcases do not sell very well these days," said he. "It is impossible to move large portions of the stock. People are not buying bookcases as they did 15 or 20 years ago." The reason advanced for this was that there was less reading of books by the average family today than in former years. Instead of purchasing books which cost on the average of from one dollar to two dollars and a half, people were buying magazines which they can get for five cents to fifty cents. Some of these magazines of course are good, others are not worth the time spent in reading them. The tendency to substitute the magazines for books is indicative of a pernicious decline in the appreciation of good and wholesome literature. The danger resulting from this condition is that ignorance may run rampant with things. Someone has said that only one person out of a hundred thinks, the other ninety-nine blindly and thoughtlessly follow a leader. This may be an exaggerated statement, but it is certain that magazines substituted for books is not likely to contribute to the increase of either knowledge or wisdom. The problem is to get the average person to think and to reason. If stupidity could be silenced the problem would not be so difficult, but the voice of stupidity is determined to be heard. The more shallow the water the more noise it makes. So with human brains. The most dangerous social problem confronting America to day is ACTIVE IGNORANCE.

Believe Convicts
Are Inside Walls

Oswego, N. Y., March 4 (AP).—Armed guards at Sing Sing today began to burrow through the very ground on which the prison stands in quest of two convicts, one a killer, missing more than 36 hours.

Up through the grapevine route from the furtive lips of prisoners came the word that "Babe" Foll and George Walmale, the hunted, still remained inside the walls.

The search through the surrounding countryside was continued, but prison officials were convinced the men did not get outside the prison walls.

Burrowing into the earth is an old game to prison inmates, although rarely successful. Long hours of surreptitious labor are necessary and then after the place has been provisioned with food and water, the digger must lie low awaiting an opportunity to scale the walls.

Back in 1893 the ruse was worked at Sing Sing with success. The dug-out was not found for three years. More recently it failed and the "hide-outs" were found in their hole after four days.

Carbon Monoxide Gas
Takes Big Death Toll

Boston.—Carbon monoxide gas has taken a toll of 279 lives in the United States during the last six months. It was disclosed in statistics made public here by an insurance company.

Virtually all the deaths occurred in the northern states, this being explained by the lack of closed garages in the warmer southern states. Twenty-two states had no deaths from carbon monoxide.

States reported carbon monoxide deaths as follows: New York, 32; Pennsylvania, 31; California, 27; West Virginia, 26; Illinois, 22; Michigan, 21; Massachusetts and Wisconsin, 17 each; New Jersey, 16; Ohio, 12; Minnesota, 11; Missouri, 8; Kansas, 6; Indiana, 5; Nebraska, 3; Colorado, North Dakota and Vermont, 2 each; and Delaware, Maryland, Louisiana, Texas, South Carolina, Washington and Oklahoma, 1 each.

Cigarette Stub Helped
Swing War Sentiment

New York.—A cigarette stub helped swing sentiment of former German subjects in Alsace-Lorraine to the allies during the war, is the belief of Lieut. Col. Bernard Flood, chief of the A. E. F. secret service.

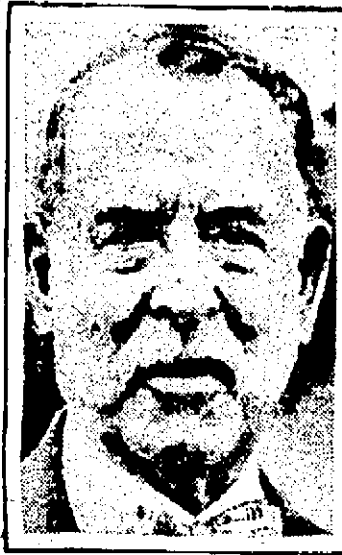

After nine years Colonel Flood recalls in the Elks Magazine that thousands of lukewarm Alsatians in recently recaptured territory were enraged by a murder that climaxed a series of assaults and robberies. A stub of a French cigarette and an American bayonet were found at the scene.

A search was made among 10,000 troops for an American who smoked French cigarettes, usually detected by the doughboys. The guilty man was found and his arrest appeased the Alsatians.

Gang in Moscow Admits
Strangling 17 Persons

Moscow.—A gang of murderers, arrested by the police, has confessed to killing seventeen persons in the suburbs of Moscow. Five men and three women have been arrested. All their victims were peasants. The gang waylaid single men and women returning to the villages from Moscow and strangled them, according to the police. The bodies of the victims were always stripped and thrown onto the snow, the clothes being sold by the murderers.

MAY RAISE REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION TO BAR

Albany, N. Y., March 4 (AP).—The court of appeals threw open its doors to the public today for a hearing on the question of increasing the educational requirements for attorneys.

The hearing was the result of a memorial to the court adopted by the association of the bar of the New York and the New York county lawyers' association. The organizations seek to raise the requirements for admission to the bar.

Members of the court of appeals committee on character and fitness of applicants for admission to the bar expected to present a report on requirements in other states, excerpts from examination papers illustrating inadequacy of candidates' knowledge of the United States government, certain recommendations and letters supporting the recommendations.

Secretary Charles H. Strong of the Association of the Bar, announced that its representatives would be Elihu Root, chairman; George W. Wickersham, vice-chairman, and several others. Dean Huger W. Jervey of Columbia law school and Dean Ignatius M. Wilkinson of Fordham University law school were representatives of those schools. Another delegation was expected from the New York county association.

Sharkey Scores Technical Kayo

Over McTigue in Twelfth Round in Best Match of Tourney—Sharkey Too Strong, Young and Virile for the Fighting Irishman.

New York, March 4 (AP).—Two rugged Boston heavyweights, Jack Sharkey and Jimmy Maloney, today stood head and shoulders above all aspirants for the championship of Gene Tunney.

Setting of the stage for the final of Tex Rickard's elimination tournament came through the most dramatic encounter of the series last night when Sharkey scored a technical knockout over the veteran Irishman, Mike McTigue in the 12th of a 15-round match at Madison Square Garden.

Maloney won his spurs two weeks ago by outpointing Jack Delaney, light-heavyweight champion, in 10 rounds in the same arena.

More thrills, gore and color sprinkled Sharkey's victory last night than have been packed into all the previous battles of the tourney. And again it was the struggle of another "good little" warrior—another Delaney—against a rugged battering "good big" man—another Maloney—with the result added proof of the time worn ring slogan that "no good little man can ever beat a good big man."

In defeat McTigue was as stirring a figure as ever he has been since starting a sensational knockout campaign that numbered Paul Berlenbach among his victims and brought the Celtic warrior to the greatest opportunity of his career almost at the sunset of his fighting days. Victory meant a match with Maloney, then perhaps Tunney and the heavyweight championship.

But McTigue was waved to his corner, a brave but battered fighter, after two minutes and nine seconds of fighting in the 12th round. Blood gushed in a steady stream from his mouth where a moment earlier Sharkey's glancing right had smashed a tooth and broken a blood vessel inside his cheek.

The 170-pound Irishman admitted in his late thirties and showing every bit of his age in the final rounds, was a beaten man, hammered and cuffed and roughed through the final stages of the bruising melee before the accident ended his struggle. Sharkey was too young, too strong, too virile a fighting machine for the foxy McTigue to handle.

Early in the battle crafty Michael made his bid for a knockout. A daring, amazing rally that dazed Sharkey despite the Boston tar's 19-pound weight advantage. The 14,000 fans in the garden had roared encouragement to him, willing to believe that another ring miracle was at hand as McTigue poured in a furious attack

In the Southern Training Camp

New York, March 4 (AP).—Uncle Willbert Robinson, pilot of the Brooklyn Robins, was quite upset today at the training camp in Clearwater, Fla. Not over his team, which is rounding into splendid shape, but over a baseball, rammed into his stomach at express train speed from the bat of one of his athletes. It was a mighty foul, from Jess Petty's bat, that woofed Robbie squarely on his generous vest.

A merry battle between Henline's team and Deberry's gang, which the latter won 11 to 9, was in progress at the time. Robbie didn't feel so well today, and his dignity was fractured completely.

Wiley Moore, a big righthand pitcher from Oklahoma, is impressing the athletes working out at the Yankee camp at St. Petersburg. He looks like Jack Scott, former Giant hurler, and pitches like him. The Yanks worked out on their new infield for the first time yesterday.

Arrival of Bill Terry to complete a first string infield, a 4 to 3 win, of the regulars over the Yannisians and possible serious injury to Jack Cummings, promising catcher, were the stand-out events at the Giants' park in Sarasota. Cummings split his throwing hand in the afternoon drill.

WHAT HAPPENED IN THE ROPED ARENA LAST NIGHT (By The Associated Press.)

New York—Jack Sharkey, Boston, won a technical knockout over Mike McTigue, New York, twelve rounds. Lou Bogash, Bridgeport, Conn., outpointed Billy Viladebeck, Bayonne, N. J., ten rounds. James J. Braddock, Jersey City, defeated Lou Barbar, Decaluwe, Belgium, beat Speedy Dean, Chicago, four rounds. Arthur DeKub, Italy, scored a technical knockout over Pat Lester, Tucson, Ariz.

Atlanta, Ga.—Young Stribling, Macon, won a technical knockout over Leo Gates, four rounds.

that cut Sharkey's left eye and split his lip.

Perhaps the biggest moment of the fight came in that third frame when Mike put his all in a crushing right hand smash to the chin. It was the punch of a rejuvenated hand, the blow that piled five straight knockouts, Sharkey took it, blinked, and as blood seeped from his lips, smashed forward with both fists flying.

That blow, and the way Sharkey absorbed it, marked the high water mark of Mike's struggle.

Jimmy Delaney, Pugilist, Dies

St. Paul Light-Heavyweight Dies of Blood Poisoning Resulting From an Injured Arm—Engaged in 69 Major Bouts.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 4 (AP).—Jimmy Delaney, 26, St. Paul light-heavyweight boxer, died here early today from blood poisoning resulting from an injured arm sustained in a fight with Maxie Rosenbloom, at Cincinnati, February 11.

Delaney splintered a bone in his left elbow but failed to realize the extent of the injury until after he had fought Benny Ross at Buffalo ten days later. Infection developed and two operations and blood transfusions failed to check it.

During his six years as a professional, Delaney engaged in sixty-seven major bouts, some of which were with the leading men of his class. He won 29 and lost 9, with no decision in the others. Nineteen of his victories were knockouts.

Delaney met the late Harry Greb, middleweight champion, three times and twice met Gene Tunney, when the latter was working his way toward the heavyweight title.

Jimmy beined Tommy Gibbons train for his fight with Jack Dempsey atoney, Mont. He also served as chief sparring partner for Gene Tunney in the latter's successful drive for the heavyweight crown last fall.

Delaney was born in St. Paul, June 25, 1901. He was married in 1923 to Rose Firnette of St. Paul, who, with a son, Jimmy, Jr., age 3 years, survive him.

Big Game Increasing

Big game on the reservations administered by the biological survey has notably increased during the last ten years, with the exception of antelope. Better control has been initiated and these are again increasing. The total number of big-game animals on these reservations at this time is about 1,500.

MANNERS NEEDED TO SAVE HUNTING

English Far Ahead of Us in Preservation of Game.

The English are far ahead of us both in the niceties of hunting and in the preservation of game, and we might do well to follow in their tracks. Nash Buckingham intimates in an article on the hunting situation in America in the Sportsman.

"The English have the surety of shooting down to such a point of productivity," writes Mr. Buckingham, "that they actually have time to discuss the table manners of what one might term a 'well-mannered sportsman.' Most of the 'Don'ts' we see in our conversational pleadings consist of warnings against shooting the farmer's cattle or ox or anything that is his, burning his barns, cutting wires, and other sportively alluring acts falling just short of murder and mayhem."

Turning to the game depletion in this country the article says, "The buffalo, the antelope, the wild pigeon are gone. We have rough-and-tumbled the game, bringing it to sad estate by market hunting, and then, as its scarcity has become apparent, turning to laws to fend off the surge of civilization."

"However, there must be more light before more laws. There must be reclamation before reformation, and reformation before restoration. Game restoration, if not the greatest, is one of the greatest of reclamation projects in this country today, morally, physically, spiritually, and commercially. Without it all wild game in this country will be in the sad plight of the gods."

The game refuge bill sponsored by five of the country's greatest national protective organizations will soon be up before congress. "There are 79 protective state associations listed in our national directory. There are 53 state and territorial game and fish departments. There are 17 national protective organizations. There is now the Sporting Arms and Manufacturers' Institute, comprising as members some twenty odd manufacturers of weapons, tackle, and general hunting equipment. There is one government protective agency and there is the migratory bird law."

But according to Mr. Buckingham, the only way to save our game is to educate the hunter—rich and poor, both need it. Until he takes a hand, breeds stock and puts out food, discards his present motto, "a million for killing, but not one cent for increase"—until then, all the laws that congress can pass in a long session will have little effect.

Pedestrian Is Broke

Edward P. Watson, famed pedestrian, who is now penniless at the age of eighty-eight. A business venture in which he was interested failed, but he has not lost heart, saying he expects to live to be one hundred. He received $500 from a western shoe manufacturing concern in which he was interested, but this money soon faded, and now he doesn't know when he will get more.

Says Tournament Golf

Becoming Too Popular

Some golfers point out that there is such a thing as tournament golf becoming too popular, writes H. G. Sanger in the Detroit News.

They point to the crowds of 12,000 that packed around Bobby Jones on his last round in the United States open at Scioto, and the 15,000 that jammed the fairways when Jones and George Von Elm fought it out for the United States amateur title at Baltimor.

The severe mental strain caused by the untold mob takes too much from actors in this golf drama.

Jones has the heavier load to carry. He is always taxed more than his opponent, for Jones is the magnet. He knows it and still consistently that it is up to him to deliver. It is next to impossible for him to keep from over-protecting.

That Jones was at Scioto in the face of conditions was remarkable; that he lost at Baltimor was not surprising.

You will probably say that it must have been as tough for Von Elm as it was for Jones, but that was not the case. Jones had the mob at his heels for five days before he met Von Elm. He was already worn out by the time he faced off against Von Elm. The challenge was fresh. No crowd had pressed him through five days of competition.

Financial and Commercial

New York, March 4 (AP)—Selling pressure was renewed against today's stock market after an early period of strength, sending prices irregularly lower. A break of over 7 points in Continental Baking A., based on unfavorable dividend rumors, unsettled the general list in the early afternoon. The usual week-end profit taking and the ferretting out of other weak spots by bear traders, also were factors in the day's selling.

There were few outside news developments likely to influence the price movement. Motors were frolic sold on the early bulge on a recurrence of pessimistic reports regarding increasing competition and price cutting. Rubber moved up and down with the motors. Railroad equipments, apart from Baldwin which was weak, showed a tendency to move upward on expectations of increasing railroad orders.

Establishment of the highest price in several years by Pure Oil featured the Petroleum group which showed evidence of organized support. Tobacco also were well bought, American Sunlight touching a new high, while Reynolds B. rallied substantially above last night's closing quotation.

North Carolina

Wild Ponies of the Banks.

(Prepared by the National Geographic Society, Washington, D. C.)

W HILE many Southern states are feeling the burden of a huge cotton crop at low prices, North Carolina, which not only raises cotton but has also come to manufacture cotton goods on a large scale, can see the other side of the picture.

North Carolina is passing through a renaissance. Due to her steadily intensifying shift from cotton fields to mill centers and from one-crope streams to thriving dynamos, she has suddenly rediscovered herself on the threshold of industrial power.

The legendary North Carolinian who in the '60s called his three daughters Rosie, Tar and Turpentine, would today be naming them after cigarette brands, furniture trademarks and cotton-goods patterns.

Charlotte, situated between the big hydroelectric developments along the Catawba and Yadkin rivers, is a plexus of this new industrialism. In the last 25 years the number of textile mills operating within a 100-mile radius of that city has been increased fivefold, with a present soundings of 10,000,000.

An hour's ride beyond Charlotte is Gastonia, one of the largest textile centers in the United States. Of its 20,000 people, about three-fourths are workers in the 42 mills whose tall stacks cut the sky. Yet in the town's broad, tree-shaded streets, lined with neat cottages on well-kept, flower-fringed plots, one feels no oppressive sense of concentrated industry, but rather the restfulness of some model suburb, widespread to sun, air and surrounding countryside.

With mill workers' cottages rentable at $3 a month, with water and electric light free, and a mild climate, necessitating little fuel, which is obtainable at cost, it is not uncommon for mountain families to work at Gastonia long enough to pay off their farm mortgage and then return to the Blue Ridge. Gaston county contains 98 textile mills, which represent one-sixth of the state's total spindleage and consume almost one-third of her cotton crop.

Winston-Salem's Factories.
Another center of importance in North Carolina's new industrialism is Winston-Salem. It has been designated "the twin city" since its component towns were merged in 1913, but no twins ever showed greater dissimilarity than old Salem and youthful Winston. Here one has the stately Eighteenth century and the industrial Twentieth century side by side, with a mere street or so acting as the hyphen.

Salem signifies that "peace", which was sought by the persecuted Moravians who founded it in 1759. And that "peace" has never forsaken old Salem. Cross a few streets and one is amid Winston's humming bales of industrialism, where 15,000 wage-earners are turning out their daily trainloads of manufactured tobacco, furniture and textiles on a scale that leads Uncle Sam to rate Winston-Salem as the South's second industrial city.

A circle enclosing Winston-Salem with the deans center of Greensboro and the furniture center of High Point defines an industrial patch 30 miles across, representing an annual products value of more than $300,000,000. Winston-Salem's stamp-dicking machines consume annually the most expensive meal in the world—a matter of $100,000,000 worth of Uncle Sam's familiar blue imprints. That is the sum of her federal tobacco taxes, which represent one-half of those paid by North Carolina.

From the tobacco standpoint, North Carolina's civic twins are really Winston and Durham. At Durham the first perfected cigarette-rolling machine was used, and her fame for the "smoking" dates back to the Civil War.

Durham itself symbolizes education springing out of industrialism, for it is the seat of Duke university, which is destined by recent bequests to become one of the country's greatest centers of learning. Social welfare springing out of education is as fully symbolized by the nearby state university at Chapel Hill.

Land of the Sky.
But all is not industrialism in North Carolina. In the west is Asheville, the gateway to what North Carolinians have well named the Land of the Sky. Never was an altitude of a half mile above sea level so unobvious, in all but the tonic atmosphere. Set in a vast bowl, Asheville is encircled by mountains whose 20 highest peaks top all altitudes in the Eastern states.

It was on the Biltmore estate, near Asheville, that, with the founding of a forestry school, the first steps in American forest conservation were taken. Today there are established in this region, for the protection of watersheds and hardwood reserves, the Cherokee, Nantahala, Unaka and Pisgah national forests. With a boundary which encloses more than 1,700,000 acres, the government had acquired, up to July, 1925, somewhat less than a fourth of this area. In the Pisgah, established in 1916 as a game preserve, active bear and deer roam, trout streams are stocked, and herds of bison and elk have been implanted.

Surrounded by the modishness of Asheville, one scarcely realizes that only 50 miles away mountaineers are living a ruggedly simple existence behind hand-hewn timbers and on small "switchback" farms, with revolutionary looms and spinning-wheels alongside their chimney pieces of native rock.

It was a far-seeing woman from among the "balled-shirt" life of Asheville who persuaded these remote, almost forgotten, mountain folk to set their long-lieid looms going again. Today there are half a dozen handicraft centers scattered through western North Carolina. Mountain literacy in North Carolina is passing rapidly. In the last 15 years the state-wide ratio has dropped from 185 to 136 illiterates, in every 1,000. Of late years about 4,000 one-teacher schools have been scrapped for modern-type buildings, and North Carolina's educational budget has risen to $11 per capita, or exactly midway between the per capita cost of $8, as averaged throughout the Southern states, and $14 throughout the nation.

The Coastal Region.

A totally different part of the state is the coastal region with its low lands, its numerous sounds and channels and its off-shore islands of sand—"the Banks." For centuries wild horses have been roaming the Banks, and current tradition has it that they are descended from Barbary ponies which were brought over by Sir Walter Raleigh's colonists. From time to time these "banker ponies" are rounded up and driven into corrals made of timber from old wrecks. It is a scene with a far Western tang, flying hoofs, swinging lariats, and the flash of branding irons. After the branding and calling out, the likeliest animals are "auctioned off." They bring now only $6 a head. A few years ago these putative descendants of Raleigh's "little Barbary ponies" were bringing from $50 to $125 apiece. The auctioneer in explanation, complains: "Too much gasoline about nowadays."

On the ocean side of the Hatteras banks one finds the greatest wreck area on the Atlantic coast. Along the beach are the skeletons of what were once ships, not blanching victims of the sea and sand, their upstanding ribs resembling files of gravestones, their forests of protruding spikes being the grisly grass of the desert-like expanse. At one point there are 14 wrecks within 100 yards.

Off the great apex of the Banks are those dreaded quicksands, the Diamond shoal. They are the more to be dreaded because off Hatteras, one of the enormous tides of steel balls embedded in the Diamond, there is a magnetic deviation sometimes amounting to eight degrees.

The farther northward one follows the Banks, the more remote and resourceless seems the life of the people. Often it appears to be mere existence, as of castaways who have taken root on this two-mile width of sand bar, 60 miles off shore.

Oxygen is not a fuel, but is used to burn fuels, such as gasoline or hydrogen. A better example is obtained by the use of oxygen than can be obtained by burning the same fuels with air, and the total amount of heat produced is increased.

Lewis Vandemark Commits Suicide

Placing the muzzle of a double-barreled shot gun against his breast, Lewis Vandemark, 35 years old, committed suicide Thursday morning about 5:35 o'clock in his home near the village of Wallkill, leaning over and pulling the trigger. Vandemark had loaned a brother a sum of money on his farm two years ago, and the recent loss of the brother with the money due and complications that had arisen in the settling up of the estate, caused the surviving brother considerable worry.

He was to have visited his attorney in New Paltz Thursday with a view to preparing papers for a forced sale of the property.

The home of Vandemark is but a short distance from the Borden farm where he had been employed for several years, and was known as an intruder to what is known as Lake Otis park.

The coroner who made an investigation gave his verdict as death by suicide. Deceased is survived by wife, four brothers, Freleigh, William, Charles and Samuel, and two sisters, Mary and Janet.

FORMER NAPANOCH MAN*SLASHES WIFE'S THROAT

A tiff over a ten cent tip in a bakery-restaurant in New York City terminated Wednesday afternoon when Dennis Collins, 45 years old, New York, former guard at the Nauchuch Institution, slashed his wife's throat with a razor. Mrs. Collins is a sister of Mrs. Roy Hall of Fallsville, rose from her chair and staggered toward the rear of the restaurant where she collapsed. She was moved to the Bellevue Hospital in critical condition.

D. A. R. Hears of County Pageant

Professor Bennett Addressed Willwyck Chapter on Coming Ulster County Pageant—Six New Members Received into the Chapter.

The regular monthly meeting of Willwyck Chapter, D. A. R., was held at the Chapter House on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. T. D. Lewis, Regent, presiding. It proved to be their "busy day" as considerable interesting business was transacted and Prof. Bruce Bennett of the New Paltz Normal faculty told Willwyck Chapter quite a bit about the coming Ulster County Pageant, asking for the chapter's cooperation.

Six new members were received into the chapter. They were, Mrs. Ralph Gregory, Mrs. A. H. Gilchrist, Mrs. Lillian A. Bowen, Mrs. Kate Traver, Mrs. Howard St. John and Miss Elizabeth Bevier.

Mrs. B. C. Van Ingen, chairman of the Americanization Committee, reported attending the naturalization court at which time 45 aliens applied for citizenship and 26 were admitted to citizenship, representing the Dutch, Austrian, German, Italian, Polish, English and Russian nationalities. Following out the suggestion made by Mrs. Van Ingen, the chapter voted hereafter to give each naturalized citizen the manual as before but a silk instead of a cotton American flag.

Mrs. Adams, chairman of The Better Films Committee, reported a large number of children under sixteen years of age attending all of our moving picture theatres without chaperons. Often children will ask any adult to buy their ticket so they may enter the theatre with them, and that is the last that the accommodating adult sees or knows of the child whose ticket has been so bought.

Mrs. Virgil B. Van Wagonen, who was to have had charge of a food sale for the Chapter, reported it to be impossible to find a suitable place to hold such sale until a very much later date, and asked that instead, each member contribute directly the price of one cake, thus raising the needed money within the Chapter, which was agreed to. Apropos of the need of such money raising, Mrs. Albert Irwin told of the open house held at frequent intervals by the Poughkeepsie Chapter, where cards would be enjoyed and a silver collection taken, quite to the financial advantage of the Chapter.

It was voted to make the usual annual contribution by the Chapter, of $30 toward carrying on the Tamawasee School and $2 was voted as the annual contribution to the Caroline Scott (The First President General) Memorial.

Again a motion was carried to send a vote of thanks to Miss Alma Van Hovenberg for her efficient labors in arranging the Willwyck Chapter, D. A. R. Library.

Gives History of Kingston.

Portions of a letter from Mrs. Byrd Trego, of Blackfoot, Idaho—formerly of Kingston—were read in which she told of addressing the Grove Land School on the occasion of their celebrating Washington's Birthday. Mrs. Trego telling of the life of Washington. She presented the school with a portrait of the Father of his Country, for Willwyck Chapter, D. A. R. of Kingston, and also gave a brief history of Kingston, including the burning of our city by the British at the time of the Revolution.

At this point Mrs. William A. Warren, chairman of the Ulster County Home Bureau and Prof. Bruce Bennett of New Paltz, director of the coming pageant were introduced.

Bennett Talks of Pageant. Prof. Bennett told the women that the first meeting of the Farm and Home Bureau, held to consider this project which should dramatize that period of our country's history preceding and perhaps following the Revolution, occurred on November 11, last, showing that there had been time to definitely plan the undertaking. He also said he decidedly held a brief for the Farm and Home Bureau of Ulster county which organizations had the vision to plan to present this pageant which would be a most important event in the Empire State. Of course it had been realized that the cooperation of other organizations would be absolutely necessary to produce a dramatic performance including some fifteen hundred people before an expected audience of thirty thousand people. For that very reason, both Mrs. Warren and himself were soliciting the cooperation of Willwyck Chapter.

Chairman of Committees. Already several of the important committees have been appointed in whole or in part, as follows:

Book Committee: Mrs. John W. Seating, Dr. Michael, the Rev. Dr. Frank B. Seeley, Miss Tarrant, Miss Elizabeth LeFevre of The New Paltz Independent, B. H. Matteson of New Paltz.

Music Committee, Harry P. Dodge, chairman.

Publicity Committee, Everett Fowler, chairman.

Costume Committee, H. M. Eppes of Accord, chairman.

Properties Committee, Aaron Cohen, chairman.

Grounds Committee, Louis Cohen, chairman.

Production Committee, Mrs. William A. Warren and Millard Davis, chairmen.

Propaganda Committee, B. H. Matteson of New Paltz, chairman.

There will also have to be a dance committee, ticket committee, concessions committee, program committee, etc.

Prof. Bennett asked that the D. A. R. cooperate on the Book Committee and Mrs. Lewis announced that Mrs. Virgil B. Van Wagonen had been appointed to represent the chapter.

Definite Date Not Set. Prof. Bennett explained that it had been found quite impossible to hold the pageant at the time when the state was planning to celebrate the inauguration of Governor Clinton in this city—July 30th, as it was a most inopportune time for the people living in the rural sections and who would in large measure participate in the pageant, as it was to be an Ulster county affair. The definite date has not yet been set by the Farm and Home Bureaus, but it will probably occur the last of June just after the close of the schools. Prof. Bennett then gave a tentative outline of the pageant as prepared by him, arousing great enthusiasm on the part of the D. A. R. members, whose cooperation he surely gained, especially after a few words of special invitation by Mrs. Warren.

After Prof. Bennett's talk there were two exceptionally interesting "Ancestor Reminiscences" given, the one by Mrs. Zabriskie of her early family history at Mounmouth, N. J., and the other by Mrs. William R. Anderson concerning her ancestor, Matthew Thornton, a signer of the Declaration of Independence; doctor, judge of the Supreme Court; first governor of Vermont; speaker of the House, etc.

The hostesses at the social hour that followed were Mrs. Oscar Edwards and Mrs. R. H. D. Boerger.

TWO MARBLETOWN GIRLS TO ENTER BROOKLYN HOSPITAL.

Miss Ruth Oliver and Miss Harriet Dixon of Marbletown, left Kingston on Thursday for New York city where they will enroll as student nurses in the spring training class at the Methodist Hospital in Brooklyn.

Weiner Home to Meet. A meeting of Weiner Home company will be held this evening at 8 o'clock at the Central Fire Station. After the meeting a spaghetti supper will be served, and a large attendance is expected.

LAST NIGHT on the RADIO

Perfect reception of excellent programs from WPAF, WGY and Thursday evening made DX trips needless. Judging from a brief excursion into the zone of squeals and squaws, fishing would not have been very profitable of anything beside profanity as part of the fisherman. Anyway, Big Three were good enough for one. Beg pardon, there was with a thoroughly high class program steeped in and saturated sanctity.

YOU ALWAYS RECOGNIZE THE THOROUGHbred

With haste and high pressure in the saddle virtually everywhere, the Pierce-Arrow is still painstakingly built by hand.

Into every detail of its construction—body as well as chassis—goes that almost reverent care for which Pierce-Arrow workmen have ever been renowned.

And while such precision and fidelity to an ideal are not customary in these fast-moving times, they explain why the years always deal kindly with a Pierce-Arrow.

Children who are now infants will be well along in school age before the Pierce-Arrow purchased today need be resold.

And even then it will still look the part of the thoroughbred it essentially is. For, as you sense the quality strain instantly in the lines and attitude of a blooded animal, you also recognize it in the appearance and the movement of even the oldest Pierce-Arrow.

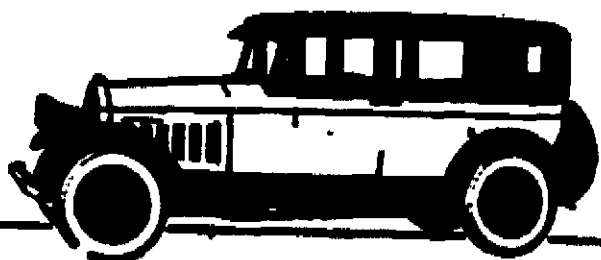

Hand-building does not make the Pierce-Arrow a high-priced car. The Series 6 two-door coach at $2895 is an example. Easily maneuvered 130-inch wheelbase.
